

Kettle Bridge to Farleigh Green

3 miles

1. Starting at the bench, take the footpath between it and the by the Ticked Trout pub. Head straight down, through a kissing gate until you reach the road (Mill Lane).
2. Turn right and head towards Teston Lane and cross the Grade 1 Listed bridge.
3. Immediately take the stile on your right that is part of the Medway Valley Walk. Continue on this all the way to Kettle Bridge (also known as Barming Bridge or St Helens Bridge – see TheFarleighs.co.uk for more history).
4. Cross Kettle Bridge and walk steeply uphill, all the way to Lower Road and Kettle Corner.
5. Continue up Kettle Lane straight in front. This is an unmade road so it is unlikely you will come across any cars.
6. You arrive at West Farleigh Green and the Good Intent Pub. Stop for refreshments?
7. Walk a short way down Charlton Lane and turn left into the Hollow. Just before the converted stables there is a footpath on your left. Further along here you will see a Kissing Gate stile also on your left. Take that and walk towards Ewell Lane.
8. Return to the bench on Ewell Lane.
